BRIDGING THE GAPS IN BEHAVIORAL RESEARCH

A little more than a year ago, THOMAS M. NELSON, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Psychology, initiated a study into the viability of an Applied Psychology Unit within the department. Dr. Nelson and his colleagues believed teaching and research in the applied behavioral sciences would be more effective if they were more directly related to the current needs of the community and its more than 250 social agencies. The purpose of the proposed unit was to focus on these needs.

When the planning committee put its proposal to the agencies, the response was overwhelmingly in favor of the Applied Psychology Unit, and it now has been established on a provisional basis under the direction of PAUL ZELHART, Associate Professor of Psychology.

It was during the preliminary research into the new unit that the planning committee stumbled onto another gap in their field. Despite the fact the province is moderately wealthy in social and psychological service programs, the study revealed that only a small number of people—both lay and professional—are aware of the services available and the research being conducted. So, in addition to the new unit, the Department of Psychology has launched the Behavioral Research and Service Newsletter to serve as a central communication forum for agencies, academics, and lay people. The first issue was published in September; others are scheduled for January and May of next year. Approximately 1,500 copies were printed for free distribution to interested agencies and individuals. An introductory editorial by BIRENDRA K. SINHA, Associate Professor of Psychology and Psychiatry and Editor of the Newsletter, explains the publication further:

"While there are many different agencies operating in Alberta with experimental and innovative programs, only the traditional ones are usually referred to for services and consultation. It may also be noted that in spite of some overlap in the nature of services offered by these agencies, they do have sufficiently distinct client populations. Moreover, because of increasing public demand and professional interest in human services, there appears to be a continued attempt on the part of many agencies and institutions to expand and improve upon their existing facilities and services. In some cases, the services are either curtailed or dropped due to shortage of staff and funds. Such ongoing changes, however, remain largely unknown to the concerned public and professionals.

"These observations confirmed the necessity of a continuing forum for exchange of information which would serve as the communication link between academics, professionals, administrators, policy makers in the government, and the public. . . . The main focus of the Newsletter will be the changing scenes in applied behavioral fields including mental health relevant to the people of Alberta."

Dr. Nelson, who serves as Chairman of the Newsletter Board of Directors, says it is important to maintain the publication as a communication forum.

"Since it is the only publication of its sort available in Alberta, it must remain basically non-evaluative," he says. "We do not endorse or reject articles sent to us, or try to judge someone's work. We must accept a person's motivation for research and other programs as good, and leave the evaluation up to the researcher and the funding agencies."

The Newsletter is interdisciplinary in its news coverage of research and service taking place in psychiatry, psychology, sociology, social work, community and rehabilitation medicine, and nursing. The first issue contains sections on issues and trends and on human service programs, as well as a research forum and a special report. Subsequent issues are likely to contain, also, reports on federal and provincial projects, and book reviews.

Funds for the first three issues were made available by the provincial Department of Health and Social Development. CHARLES P. HELLON, Acting Director of the Mental Health Division of the Department, served as liaison while the project was being developed and now sits on the Board of Directors. Other Board members include representatives from The University of Calgary, The University of Lethbridge, the Attorney General's Department, the Community Psychiatric Services and the West Rede Institute in Edmonton, and The University of Alberta.

The deadline for receiving items to be published in the January issue is December 7. News related to research, human service programs, workshops, meetings, employment, and appointments should be sent to Dr. Sinha, Behavioral Research and Service Newsletter,

Department of Psychology, The University of Alberta.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

By FOLIO Staff

The University Board of Governors and its Executive Committee met November 10, 1972.

GRADUATE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

An investigation into the legal status of the Graduate Students' Association (GSA) revealed that the group had never been incorporated by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

MAX WYMAN, President, moved that the Board write to the GSA informing them of their status and inviting them to send a non-voting representative to both open and closed portions of Board meetings. The motion was carried.

Board members also voted to request the government immediately for an order-in-council incorporating the GSA, on the understanding that the request for and confirmation of the GSA have no adverse effect on the present fee structure between the Students' Union and the GSA.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

This fall a dispute arose between the Students' Union and the GSA over the issuance of identification cards by the GSA to its members. To resolve the matter, the Board passed the following motions:

"THAT the identification card issued by the Graduate Students' Association be accepted for identification purposes by those University departments requiring such evidence, including but not restricted to the University Athletic Board, the Library, the Registrar, the Comptroller, and the Student Awards Office, for the balance of the 1972-73 academic year; and

"THAT for the 1973-74 academic year, the Administration be instructed to arrange for the issuance of a uniform University identification card to all registered students for production when such identification is required for any University department or function."

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED

The Board confirmed the appointment of D. M. ROSS, Dean of the Faculty of Science, as a University representative and voting member of the Western Canadian Universities Marine Biological Society.

AFFILIATION AGREEMENT

Board members voted to extend, to August 31, 1974, the affiliation agreement between the

any competition with outside organizations, or to participate in non-competitive University activities which are open to the general public, or to hold office in a student organization, a student must be a bona fide student and must meet the requirement of satisfactory scholastic standing.

A bona fide student is one who is (1) carrying a full year's undergraduate work in the University, or (2) carrying a full year's graduate work and in attendance at Edmonton, or (3) a student at an affiliated college carrying a full year's work leading to a diploma or certificate and taking two full courses of University grade in the University.

A bona fide student may assume that he is scholastically eligible to participate in the activities mentioned above unless he is informed otherwise by his Dean or Director. However, a male student desiring to participate in events sponsored by the Western Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union must meet the requirements of scholastic standing laid down by that body.

If a student is in doubt about his eligibility to participate, he should consult the Dean of his faculty or the Director of his school as soon as possible.

General Faculties Council Minutes, January 25, 1959.

The third paragraph of the above was further modified by General Faculties Council on August 8, 1966, when the following regulation was approved:

Every student, prior to accepting nomination for elective office or making application for an appointive office in student affairs shall be required to obtain a statement of academic eligibility from the Dean of his faculty or the Director of his school. This statement will be filed with his nomination papers or with his application for appointment.
